

Strata schemes

The following information explains how to apply to the NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT) to resolve a strata schemes dispute.

About NCAT

The NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT) is an independent, specialised and accessible service for the fair and timely resolution of disputes according to law.

NCAT can make orders under the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 about disputes or complaints which have not been resolved by mediation.

Applying to NCAT

Complete the Strata schemes application form and lodge it with the appropriate fee. Visit the NCAT website for current fees and charges.

Specify the section of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 and the orders you want NCAT to make.

Refer to the orders table at the end of this fact sheet for the types of orders NCAT can make. You can request more than one order.

Urgent applications

You can apply to NCAT for an interim order by completing the separate Strata schemes interim application. An application for interim orders can only be made in conjunction with a Strata schemes application. It cannot be made on its own.

NCAT must be satisfied on reasonable grounds that urgent considerations justify the making of interim orders.

Evidence about the urgent considerations that justify the making of interim orders must be provided with the application. Such evidence should be in the form of a statement with relevant documents attached.

NCAT aims to assess the urgency of the application for interim orders within 24 hours of it being lodged with NCAT. The policy is for a Tribunal Member to conduct the assessment on the papers. In some cases NCAT may make orders in the absence of the parties. These are orders in the nature of an injunction. They will usually be for a short period of time to allow all parties to be notified and given an opportunity to participate in a hearing about the interim orders.

Examples of situations which may justify the making of an interim order in the absence of the parties include where an order is required:

- to prevent the carrying out of unauthorised work to the common property
- to prevent the common property from otherwise being damaged, or
- to address an imminent danger to the health and welfare of lot owners or occupiers, such as a gas leak, or the absence of running water or electricity.

If the Tribunal Member does not consider that the interim orders should be made without first hearing from the other party, the Tribunal Member will direct the parties to provide evidence and submissions by a particular date and the application for interim orders will be listed for hearing as soon as practicable. The application for substantive orders will be listed for directions at the same time.

An interim order can remain in force for up to 3 months and can be renewed for up to 6 months or revoked.

Are all lot owners affected?

If all lot owners are affected by the orders you are seeking in your application to NCAT, the owners corporation must notify all lot owners about the application.

Affected lot owners will be given an opportunity to be joined as a party to your application.

Refer to the orders table at the end of this fact sheet to determine if all lot owners are affected by the orders you are seeking.

Proceedings commenced by the owners corporation?

The owners corporation must provide evidence that the proceedings have been authorised by a meeting of the strata committee or a meeting of the owners corporation.

Who is an 'interested person'?

Under the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 the following people are defined as an interested person.

- Owners corporation
- Officer of the owners corporation
- Strata management agent for the scheme
- Owner of a lot in the scheme, person having an estate or interest in a lot or an occupier of a lot.
- Lessor of the scheme (if strata scheme is a leasehold strata scheme).

Who is a 'connected person'?

Please refer to section 7 of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 for a full definition of a 'connected person'.

Mediation required for certain applications

Mediation is compulsory for most strata scheme disputes before lodging an application with NCAT. Refer to the orders table overleaf to find out if you need to attempt mediation for your strata dispute. The exceptions are listed in section 227(4) of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015.

NSW Fair Trading provides a free mediation for strata disputes. Visit the NSW Fair Trading website at www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

What happens next?

After applying to NCAT, your matter will be listed for conciliation and hearing, or a directions hearing. The type of hearing will depend on the orders you are seeking.

You and the other parties will receive a notice of hearing from NCAT specifying the day, time and venue of your hearing. Generally the hearing will be held within 4-6 weeks.

A copy of your application and any attached documents will be available to the other parties. Do not include any confidential information you do not want disclosed.

Conciliation and hearing

Matters listed for conciliation and hearing are heard with a number of other matters in a 'group list'. Parties will be asked to attempt conciliation to reach an agreement before the hearing can take place.

The Tribunal will not hear your application during the group list, unless the issues are simple, the evidence of parties is available, the parties have had an opportunity to consider each other's evidence and the Tribunal has time to hear the case.

If the matter is not heard during the group list, directions will be made for the parties to provide their evidence to each other and the Tribunal so that the matter can be listed for final hearing.

Directions hearing

Directions hearings are used for more complex strata matters. They are used to identify the issues in dispute, set a timeframe for the final hearing, and to arrange for the exchange of evidence between parties.

Evidence and supporting materials

At the final hearing you will need to have evidence to support your case. The type of information and documents you need to provide will depend on the orders sought. Refer to the orders table at the end of this fact sheet for details.

You must comply with any orders the Tribunal makes to provide evidence to the other party and the Tribunal prior to the hearing.

Can someone represent me?

NCAT Consumer and Commercial Division hearings are conducted as informally as possible. Parties are encouraged to present their own case.

For more information refer to the [Consumer and Commercial Division Guideline Representation \[PDF 64kb\]](#), section 45 of the Civil and Administrative Tribunal Act 2013, clause 7 of Sch 4 to the Civil and Administrative Tribunal Act 2013 and rules 31 to 33 of the Civil and Administrative Tribunal Rules 2014.
